Appointment of the new sales director of the Fnac Book and Entertainment Products Division

FNAC DARTY announces the appointment of Nicolas Gaudemet as Fnac Book and Entertainment Products Sales Director in France, replacing Coralie Piton. He will be responsible for the sale and product mix of all of Fnac's cultural offerings, including books, music, video, both in physical and digital media distribution.

Holding a diploma from the École Polytechnique, Nicolas Gaudemet has held several positions at Groupe Orange, most notably that of Vice-President of Digital Content and Services.

"I would like to welcome Nicolas to the team, with the mission of enabling Fnac to constantly strengthen its leading position as a key and committed player in the world of Entertainment, which is a core element of the brand's image and identity," said Enrique Martinez, General Manager of Fnac France.
